DIVORCE WILL KEEP PACE WITH MARRIAGE

Missouri Professor's Statistics Show Practise Is Ever on the Increase.

Professor Mitt A. Missouri, National & Industrial, professor of seismology at the University of Missouri, says that the present rate of increase of divorces before the end of the century may run out of every two marriages will result in divorce. He uses figures to show the rapid increase that has been had. In 1885 American courts granted 25,000 divorces, as against 4,000 for all the rest of the world. In 1900, or the rest of the world, to forty years, increased, the divorce increase may soon three times as great as the population increase.

The ratio of divorce and marriage in America now, he says, is one to twelve. In France it is one to twenty-five, in Germany one to every forty, and in England one to forty-four.

In Missouri, according to the professor's statistics, one divorce is granted to every eight marriages.

In the State of Washington there is one divorce to every four marriages.

In Colorado and Montana the ratio is one to five, and in Texas, Oklahoma and Indiana it is one to six.

Professor Ellwood prophesies a tremendous upheaval in America unless something is done to preserve the family ties. "Free divorce," he says, is just the same as free love. It is just a swapping of families, and the free love advocates are much more dangerous to society than are anarchists."

He is not without hope, however. In an address he said:

"I believe the family is in a period of transition in America. I believe we are passing from the old to a new and higher type of family—a family in which there won't be coercion, or authority, or consideration of property, in marrying. A place will be reached where love will govern all. The family will be ethical, will be democratic. The equal rights of every member will be regarded and preserved."

"And in this the child will be taken more into consideration than it is now. The family of the future must rest on the rights of the child."

"Divorce seems to be, not essentially, but materially, an American institution. More native born Americans get divorces than there are foreigners or international couples; more Protestants than Catholics or Jews, more childless families obtain them than families where there are children and more city than rural residents."

"The cause for this, I believe, is that people are growing to look at marriage as a personal convenience. Industrial conditions and city life are much to blame, also. Formerly, before there was such a thing as a factory all the work was done at home. The family was kept together. There was no need for separation during the day.

"Now with our great manufacturing spouting streams of smoke on every side with the factory working one place, the son another, the daughter still another, and, perhaps, the mother in another, the family is lost track of.

"Childless marriages are another cause. The number of childless marriages has increased from 2 per cent to 20 per cent since the beginning of the nineteenth century."

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

The Park Theater.

Two double doors and one single door comprised the vaudeville attractions at the Park last night, and one of them was a decided novelty. Miss Standard entertained the audience for fifteen minutes making pictures with colored sand, and it is difficult at times to tell her when she does not use chalk, so quickly does her hand form the pictures and so rapidly does the sand flow. Her act is a novelty, and her drawing, considering the medium she uses, very good. The Medovas did a wonderful bicycle act that would be impossible if the cycle were not a real one, but they are expert riders, and make a great impression on the audience. The Medovas and the沙画师 are the only acts in the program.

HOW DIVORCES ARE ANNUAL

Divorces are another cause that proves the increase of divorce.

Divorce yesterday showed that Kaka had a wife and family and had a faultless reputation before he got drunk on the night in question. He has a steady job and is earning three dollars a day. Hoakano is the leader of the gang, never works and has been arrested numerous times by the police, is a habitual gambler and has other moral blemishes.

However, as the latter had only struck one blow he received the lesser fine. Both men have been committed until their trials are held.

WHAT IT WILL DO.

A woman buys a sewing machine for what it will do, not as an article of furniture. A man carries a watch to tell him the time; not as an investment of surplus capital. The same principle when one is ill. We want the medicine or the treatment which will relieve and cure. The found in need must be a friend, kindred, something, or somebody, with a temptation. There should be no work in training disease. People have the right to know what a medicine is, and what it will do before they take it. It must be behind it an instrument of benefit to others. In some diseases, it cures, in others it proves its merit and gives confidence. It is because it has such a record that WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION is bought and used without hesitation or doubt. Its Good Name is the sole basis for the faith the people have in it; and a good name has to be earned by good deeds. It does what you have a right to expect it to do. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive properties of pure Cod Liver Oil, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. In Scrofula, Anemia, Nervous and General Debility, Influenza and Wasting Complaints, it is to be thoroughly relied upon. Doctor J. L. Corrall says: "I have had remarkable success with it in the treatment of Consumption, Chronic Bronchitis, Catarrh and Suppurative Affections. It is of special value in nervous prostration and debilitated patients; it stimulates the appetite and the digestion, improves assimilation, and enters directly into the circulation with the food. I consider it a marvelous success in medicine." Every dose effective. "It cannot disappoint you." Sold by chemists

VINEYARD GANG

MEMBERS FINED

Judge Cooper in the circuit court yesterday had an opportunity to personally interview several members of that notorious aggregation of kindred spirits advisedly referred to yesterday by Prosecuting Attorney Brown as that "Vineyard street gang of toughs." These were Kakae and Hoakano who appeared on separate appeals from the lower court, their cases ending yesterday with another new departure made by Judge Cooper in the manner of disposing of criminal cases.

This was the sentencing of Kakae, who was strongly pleaded for by Brown, to pay a fine of $50 and of Hoakano, whom Brown asked to be heavier punished, to a fine of $30. Brown was taking into consideration the character of the two men and the punishment imposed by Judge Cooper took into consideration only the extent of the offense.

These two men viciously and out of pure mischief attacked a soldier who, accompanied by a woman, was sitting on one of the Andia Park benches several months ago. The Vineyard gang was just then wandering around looking for some amusement and one of its members crept up behind the bench and shook it. The soldier, who had been seated on the bench, got away and the two men followed him.

Hoakano yesterday showed that Kakae had a wife and family and had a faultless reputation before he got drunk on the night in question. He has a steady job and is earning three dollars a day. Hoakano is the leader of the gang, never works and has been arrested numerous times by the police, is a habitual gambler and has other moral blemishes.

However, as the latter had only struck one blow he received the lesser fine. Both men have been committed until their trials are held.
